ECLIPSE 1636.

Darknesse shall bee on the Ocean,
And restrayne Her boundlesse Motion.
Her blustering Waues, which gan to reare,
Shall not come to the wanted Shore.
And who will hence direct his way,
By Her New Card, may goe astray.
Nay, the Dry-Land, which now appeares,
At length shall bee eclips'd with Teares.
The Ground which Vesta on the Mayne
Hath won, shall bee ov'r-whelm'd agayne.

The Change of the Moone, with Her quarters and full: And the Disposition of the weather according to
